"Franz Ferdinand, Modest Mouse, and maybe even Phish, with an obvious Irish Twist"

Icewagon Flu is the most original band to come onto the indy scene in years. Since 2001 the band has created a fun mixture of genre-bending world music pop, which has solidified a growing cult following and insured a place in Indy rock. While releasing five full-length albums, two EPs, included on five compilations, and six film soundtracks, The FLU has toured all over the east coast, performing with notable bands: Black 47, Carbon Leaf, Enter the Haggis, Train, The Roots and Flogging Molly.

The FLU's debut album, Trouble Has A Car, was greeted with great reviews from The Irish Voice, Time Out New York, and XM Satellite Radio. After Trouble, Icewagon Flu released the biting satirical Mr. Norman EP, mixed by Mitch Easter of R.E.M. fame. They followed-up with a hook-driven pop album, The Great American Something, produced by Dan McLoughlin know for his work with Everclear, The Mighty Mighty Bosstones and Weezer.

Teaming up once again with Dan McLoughlin, The FLU releases Off the Wagon - Volume 2, their unequivocal answer to Irish/Celtic Rock in mainstream music. Check out the reviews:

- ★★★★★ "The FLU plays fast and loose with the traditional songs of our culture with marvelous results. Off the Wagon 2 takes these beloved tunes into a back alley, roughs them up and makes them into modern rock gems. In a four-star rating system, I give them a five!" —Mike Farragher, Irish Voice
- ★★★★★ "These boys have that polished, radio friendly sound that makes them great for any Ameri-Celt Rock fan." —Paddy Rock Radio
- ★★★★★ "Icewagon FLU, a band which is not easy to classify, has re-arranged some Celtic standards and the result is amazing!" —Celtic Folk Punk
- ★★★★★ "Off The Wagon Volume Two is like meeting good friends at your favorite pub for an evening of revelry. This is another must have album by a really great band." —Fanrealm
